

1.C Choice Rules

In the second approach to the theory of decision making, choice behavior itself is taken to be the primitive object of the theory. Formally, choice behavior is represented by means of a choice structure. A choice structure $(\mathcal{B}, C(\cdot))$ consists of two ingredients: